Ohio Primary Win Either Way—Make Your Own Choice

BY REED SMITH
A. P. Writer

COLUMBUS, May 6—Harold E. Stassen's capture of nine Ohio Republican delegates today was called victory or defeat—depending on which way you looked.

Sen. Robert A. Taft won the other 14 contested delegates, plus 30 without opposition from the former Minnesota governor, nearly complete returns showed.

Both Taft and Stassen hailed the outcome of Tuesday's primary election as a personal victory. Their delegates are pledged to support them for the GOP presidential nomination at the national convention next month.

Taft from Washington said his 44 Ohio delegates assured him of more first ballot convention votes than any other candidate.

Stassen said his was a "clear cut victory—one of the most significant developments of the entire national campaign."

The Republicans of Ohio have advanced us another step toward nomination at Philadelphia," Stassen asserted at Minneapolis.

Flush from victories in Wisconsin, Nebraska and Pennsylvania primaries, Stassen had predicted he would get a dozen Ohio delegates, including one from the state at-large.

He selected industrialized areas principally for his battle grounds, apparently expecting to capitalize on sentiment against the Taft-Hartley law.

Sweeps City Areas
The pay-off was a Stassen sweep of delegates in the Toledo, Akron, Youngstown and Dayton areas. He split with Taft in one Cleveland district but lost the others there, and in the Canton, Seubenville, Springfield and Portsmouth sectors.

Carrington T. Marshall, Columbus attorney and former chief justice of the Ohio Supreme court, was Stassen's only delegate-at-large candidate. With nine to be elected on a state-wide basis, Marshall ran a distant tenth.

Taft people noted that Stassen had said he would not regard his 1947 of 9385 polling places reported. St. D. Schorr of Cincinnati, former state GOP chairman, was lowest of the nine winners with 330,524. Marshall ran out with 318,871.

Taft thanked Ohio voters for their "overwhelming support." He said it was significant that Stassen won six of his delegates in the industrial areas of Akron, Youngstown and Dayton. He described those cities as strongly Democratic with a large labor vote and added:

Charges Switch
"There is evidence that many New Dealers and radical Democrats crossed over and voted in the Republican primary, on the requests and instruction of Stassen managers."

Supporting Taft's contention were totals from normally Democratic Summit county where Akron is located. Republicans there cast 41,876 votes to 39,658 by Democrats.

There was no contest for delegates on the Democratic side. All 50 Democratic convention delegates are pledged nominally to W. A. Julian of Turn to OHIO, Page 8

'Victory' Says Taft

Declaring the Ohio primary is "a victory for me and a defeat for Harold E. Stassen," Sen. Robert A. Taft receives late returns in Washington, as Mrs. Taft looks on. He won the majority of 23 contested delegates for which Stassen gave him a bitter fight.

LAUSCHE OUT TO CEMENT HIS PARTY GROUPS

Calls For Support of Democratic Party In November Campaign

(By Associated Press)

COLUMBUS, May 6—Former Gov. Frank J. Lausche today invited organization democrats to climb aboard his handwagon on the comeback trail.

He cautioned, however, there will be room only for "leadership whose principal purpose will be to serve the people."

Nearly complete returns from Tuesday's primary stamped Lausche as a rugged foe for Republican Gov. Thomas J. Herbert in the Nov. 2 election.

He campaigned as an independent against Ray T. Miller, former Cuyahoga county Democratic chairman, who said Lausche couldn't hope to win without organization support.

But Lausche soundly thumped Miller, who had numerous county organizations, the CIO Political Action Committee and prominent Democrats in his corner.

Total Vote

Returns from 9154 of Ohio's 9385 polling places gave Lausche 325,519 votes; Miller 137,729. Token totals went to two other aspirants. Robert S. Cox of Millersburg got 17,260 and Joseph Torok, Jr., of Youngstown 12,783.

Returns from 9180 polling places gave Herbert 561,326 votes. Two opponents were Albert E. Payne of Springfield with 30,568 and William L. White of Newark with 30,846.

Miller reportedly left for Bermuda without issuing a statement but Lausche said he preferred to campaign against Governor Herbert with the regular party organization.

He asserted the organization's leadership must be friendly "beyond all doubt" to his candidacy and that of other party nominees.

Saying he never had wanted to head the Cuyahoga county Democratic organization, Lausche added: "I am deeply interested, however, in having leadership whose principal purpose will be to serve the people and the people alone. It therefore goes without saying that I am con-

Administration Points To Military Aid To ERP

BY R. H. SHACKFORD

WASHINGTON, May 6—The Truman administration today decried the United States toward a revival of a limited military lend-lease program for Western Europe. But the prospects were that anything beyond a so-called "ERP insurance" program—military backing for the European Recovery program—will be debated and decided after the presidential elections.

"ERP insurance" is the term used to describe the plan under which the President with certain strings attached would be allowed to send some military supplies to Europe if necessary to protect ERP.

Secretary of State George C. Marshall and Warren R. Austin, the U. S. delegate to the United Nations, have gone farther than any other officials toward committing the administration to a long-range military lend-lease program. In testimony before the house foreign affairs committee on changes in the UN charter, they said:

Various Quotes
Marshall—"The administration is considering asking congress for authority to send military supplies to Western Europe."

Austin—"We have acted to strengthen the economics of friendly states (ERP); now let us act to strengthen their military position."

"We should strengthen the military posture of our friends."

No one in authority anticipates that a full-fledged military aid program to back up the five nation "Western Union" alliance will be ready to consideration by the United States—let alone this congress—until fall. The elections probably would mean that it would not come up until the new congress meets in January.

Even if congress had the time remaining before adjournment, members of Western Union will not have their own plans ready for many months.

Marshall and his top advisers take the same view toward military assistance for Western Union as they did toward economic aid. It amounts to this: The proposed recipients of aid should prove first that they are doing and are prepared to do everything possible they can for themselves.

The military experts of the five Western Union members have just started meetings. Until they agree to cooperate in military plans and supplies, and to standardize items, the United States is expected to remain silent.

Whatever help the United States provides in military aid will—like the economic aid program—be marginal. The bulk of it must be provided by the Western Europeans themselves.

But before congress does adjourn the administration expects to submit for approval a plan under which the present could—if necessary—supply arms to any of the 18 Western European members of ERP if it appeared that the full scale military aid program is passed.

GOP LEADERS SPLIT OVER HOUSING BILL

House Refuses To Discuss Taft-Elander Bill In Newest Dispute

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, May 6—The house Republican leadership split sharply today with Senator Taft (R-Ohio) in an angry row over housing.

Chairman Wolcott (R-Mich) of the house banking committee snapped a defiant "not interested" at the senate-passed stopgap bill to revive the government's "Title 6" home loan insurance program until June 30.

Wolcott opened a deep grave for the bill when he made it clear he spoke for other house GOP leaders in telling a reporter:

"The senate was informed last week that the house is not interested in a short term continuance. The house banking committee has not scheduled any hearings on the senate's 60-day extension bill and it does not anticipate any."

Wolcott's plain brush-off brought into the open the long-smouldering housing dispute between a senate group led by Taft and a house group headed by Wolcott. Taft is chairman of the senate Republican policy committee.

The main issue in the scrap is the Taft-Elander-Wagner long range housing bill designed to spur the construction of 15,000,000 new homes by 1958. The senate passed the bill two weeks ago. Wolcott's committee is holding hearings on it.

Wolcott left no doubt he regards the senate insurance extension, backed by Taft, as a move to force his committee to send the T-E-W bill to the house floor, intact with its controversial section providing for 500,000 government-owned and operated public housing units.

Yesterday, after another round of hot debate, the senate passed its stopgap 60-day extension to revive the government's loan insurance power which expired last Friday night.

Before the bill passed and went to the house, the senate smacked down, 43 to 28, an amendment by Senator Cain (R-Wash) to strip the insurance program from the T-E-W bill and extend it through next March, as the house did.

Her report included 557 employees at the National Sanitary Co. plant Monday and 175 at the Kenmar Mfg. Co. plant, East Palestine, yesterday morning.

Appeals Court Ballot Tabulation Is Delayed

The Mahoning county election board at Youngstown said today it will be a week or 10 days before the final count is available on the Seventh district court of appeals vote.

Judge Carl A. Weinman of Steubenville, Republican, and Judge John A. Buckley of Youngstown, Democrat, were unopposed in the primary Tuesday.

Thirteen counties make up the appellate district, including Columbiana and Jefferson. The returns are reported to the Mahoning board, largest county in the district.

Judge William Carter of Warren was not a candidate for the post. Hold-over members are Judge John C. Nichols of St. Clairsville and Judge Elmer T. Phillips of Youngstown.

Dems Vote Completed; Error In Engineer Case Corrected

The Columbiana county board of elections, which finally completed its unofficial tabulation of Tuesday's primary ballots at 5 p. m. yesterday, today began its official count.

Little change is expected to make certain the Republican renomination of Charles O. Snyder as county engineer.

Snyder, first thought to have been beaten by George Gonzales of Lisbon, resident state highway engineer, is now reported to have received 5,787 to Gonzales' 4,283. A

The tally of the Democratic votes cast in the county's 121 precincts confirmed the nomination of Don L. Gosney of near Columbiana for sheriff. He will be opposed in November by Howard (Ducky) Clark of Unity township, the Republican candidate.

Steve Tarzan won the Democratic nomination for state representative by polling 999 votes to the 825 cast for Leo Copacia, another Salem man.

There were two successful writes-ins on the Democratic ledger, James Horger for clerk of courts and Arnold Devon for coroner. Both are from East Liverpool.

Feminine 'Rip Van Winkle' Awakes After 12 Years; New Deal, War Unknown To Her

Catching up on 12 years of world events is 52-year-old Mrs. Clara Reynolds, of White Pine, Tenn., who lapsed into sleeping sickness a dozen years ago and awoke for the first time only a few weeks ago.

WHITE PINE, Tenn., May 6.—Folk in this Smoky Mountain community marveled today at the constant youth of a modern feminine "Rip Van Winkle" and wondered whether 12 years' sleep could do the same for them.

The object of their wonder is 52-year-old Mrs. Clara Reynolds, she lapsed into sleeping sickness a dozen years ago and awakened for the first time only a few weeks ago.

But it was not until last week that the story of the "White Pine Miracle" leaked out of this foothills settlement of 600. Since then, the white-frame combination home-funeral parlor where she slept through the New Deal Pearl Harbor and the advent of the atomic bomb has become a mecca for the curious.

The atomic bomb is still with us. But it, like talk of another war, is unknown to Mrs. Reynolds, a gracious, white-haired lady who remembers little of her long slumber and cares even less to recall the life she knew before. The only difference she has noticed between the worlds of 1936 and 1948 is that "the young girls seem to have more freedom nowadays and, my, how White Pine has grown."

STEELMAN TO TRY TO AVERT STRIKE MAY 11

Railroad Union Chiefs To Gather At 11 A. M. In White House

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, May 6—The White House today called a conference of railroad, brotherhood chiefs for tomorrow to try to head off the threatened railroad strike.

Dr. John R. Steelman, presidential assistant and labor expert, telephoned the heads of three unions which have called a strike for next Tuesday. He asked them to meet with him at 11 a. m. tomorrow.

Presidential Press Secretary Charles G. Ross, who made the announcement, was asked if any definite proposal would be presented to the brotherhood leaders.

Can't Talk

"I can't say any more than I have," Ross replied.

The brotherhood leaders are Alvanley Johnston of the locomotive engineers, David B. Robertson of the Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, and A. J. Glover of the Switchmen's union.

Johnston, who was in Cleveland today, said he would leave for Washington tonight. Robertson is already here.

Johnston told reporters Steelman indicated to him that he wanted to talk first with the union men, then call in representatives of railroad management.

Steelman has been keeping in constant touch with the railroad situation and reporting to President Truman.

Ross was asked whether Steelman would have a similar conference with representatives of the railroads.

"I can't say as yet," Ross said. "I have told you all that has been done to date."

Steelman reached Glover by telephone at Buffalo and got assurance Glover would attend. Robertson said he would.

White House aides would not discuss what possible action might be taken if Steelman cannot persuade the parties to reach an agreement.

They turned aside such questions as whether Truman will talk personally with the disputants, whether the union leaders might be asked to postpone the strike date, or whether the government might seize the railroads.

A plan by President Truman for the railroad owners and the unions to settle their wage dispute.

Ohio Backs Taft

Present indications are that Senator Taft will go to the Republican national convention with 45 of Ohio's 53 delegates—a fair measure of Ohio's confidence in his bid for the presidential nomination.

Taft's success in the presidential primary Tuesday proved that Harold E. Stassen overestimated his strength in a two-way contest with Ohio's senior senator. The eight delegates Stassen picked up were not enough to upset any applicants in presidential politics. They proved that Mr. Stassen can pull votes, but that was a matter that needed no proving after Wisconsin and Nebraska.

Two things must be remembered in making an estimate of the effect of the delegate contest in Ohio. Stassen strategists sought 23 delegates in 11 congressional districts and the delegate-at-large slate. They selected the 11 districts with an eye to Senator Taft's showing in them when he ran against William Pickrel for the U. S. senate in 1946. Then they chose to run only one candidate for delegate-at-large in a field of 10, an arrangement that seemed to make their lone candidate, Carrington T. Marshall, a sure bet. Politically speaking, the dice were loaded in Mr. Stassen's favor. Yet the dice failed to perform as expected, particularly when Mr. Marshall failed to finish among the first nine candidates for delegate-at-large.

The other thing to remember is that contests for Ohio convention delegates are an old Buckeye custom, even when favorite sons are running. Among voters conscious of this precedent, the loss of delegates to outside contenders isn't evidence of weakness, unless the loss happens to be overwhelming. It wasn't overwhelming Tuesday.

If Mr. Stassen had won twice as many delegates as he did win, it would have been a setback for Senator Taft. But there has been no setback. Taft is still a major contender for the nomination—the chief contender, as far as Ohio Republicans are concerned. They have given him the support he has earned by his strong and capable leadership of the Republican party. They respect Mr. Stassen for making a good try, but they will continue to support Senator Taft—more strongly than ever now because he has taken his case to them directly and been given a fresh mandate.

A New Marxist Manifesto

Of the 32 so-called American intellectuals who signed a manifesto of opposition to the United States and love for Soviet Russia, 17 looking over the list find the names that usually grade statements of this sort: Howard Fast, Alvah Bessie, Herbert Aptheker, Samuel Sillen, Joseph North, etc. They may have been somewhat abashed when the Soviet press picked up their little missive, with the result that it received publicity far beyond the limited circulation of their magazine.

The boys put on their usual act, spouting the fulsome prose of the Marxist mouthpiece in full cry. But they shadow-box themselves into a corner when they say, "our capitalists have become sharply aware of the force of culture. They tell us what to say and what not to say in defense of their culture. Our president becomes an art critic; after a few easy lessons, he insults painters with confidence."

Shucks, fellows, it must be at least a week since President Truman has insulted a painter with confidence. What have you been doing while the government you love has been publicly pillorying composers for writing tunes that grate on Commissar Zhd nov's nerves? Jigging in Union square to a live version of "Saber Dance"?

Bonus For Enlistment

Representative Allen of Illinois has proposed that military enlistments be encouraged by offering bonuses of $1,000 for two-year enlistments and $1,500 for three years. In addition, the Army would lower the adaptability score for recruits from 80 to 70. The proposal met with opposition from J. Chan Gurney, senate armed service committee chairman, who observed, "you can't buy security."

The plan will be quick to win support of draft and U. M. T. opponents but will stir doubts in others. Such a system would tend to fill the Army's ranks with misfits, time-servers and minor miscreants in search of a home, the type that brought the Army's reputation to an all-time low during the 20's and 30's.

The Army should be set up so that it can liberally reward those who offer their skill, intelligence and best efforts to the service. But it shouldn't be required to put out the welcome mat for guardhouse candidates.

Welcome, Welcome

The price cut of $25,000,000 announced by U. S. Steel does not represent a very big bite out of the nation's shopping bill. But any price cut is welcome, and doubly welcome when in such a basic commodity. The psychological effect of the reduction should help to offset the bad public reaction to U. S. Steel's announcement of a price increase not so long ago.

Since the cut was accompanied by a denial of wage increases asked by the United Steel Workers, their president, Philip Murray, is naturally disappointed. But Mr. Murray has reaffirmed his intention of living up to his union's two-year no-strike contract. And that, in this era of John L. Lewis, is also welcome news.

The indications, according to most benefic sidereal operation of powerful planets, with exceptional stimuli for forging ahead toward most ambitious goals. Under high tension and fiery initiative and aggression, the very hectic and indomitable "will to win" against all possible odds, may result in some sort of atomic explosion. While all energies, faculties and talents may be pitched to great creative work, yet an erratic or wild burst of temper or temperament may apply the match to high explosives. Haste, antagonism, criticism, argument, intemperance, may set off the crash.

For the Birthday

Those whose birthday it is, are at the ear of splendid opportunity for attaining most ambitious goals, with every promise of excellent creative achievement, along spectacular although technically practical and realistic lines. Ingenuity and skill, innovations, sudden brilliant ideas and objectives are in line for collaboration from influential sources, financial, business, social. Nevertheless a rash, intemperate, ungoverned flash of desire, fury, or temperament, born of high pressure and overwrought nerves, may manifest in a rash of strange, disorganized and tempestuous behavior, as to wreck and smash cherished objectives. Tired mind, over work, or depleted energies, may precipitate these violent and disruptive outbursts of far-reaching consequence.

A child born on this day may be so high strung and temperamental as to be detrimental to its own most ambitious goals; its creative abilities overreaching its discipline.

A Good Stunt, If It Works

GUARDING YOUR HEALTH

Indigestion Often Nervousness Result

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.
Even in the absence of disease, some of us are stronger, more energetic, and in a better general state of health than others. In many people this lack of constitutional vigor takes the form of indigestion. Nothing is organically wrong with them, that is, they have no disease of the digestive system, but at the same time it does not function quite as it should.

Such people are highly nervous, over-irritable, and over-sensitive. Many worry too much about their symptoms and their troubles. It is scarcely strange that in this more or less constant state of tension, their nerves should begin to play tricks with their organs to produce all sorts of uncomfortable symptoms.

Color of Skin

These persons often can be recognized by their cold, clammy hands; a slightly bluish color to the skin of the legs; rapid and noticeable beating of the heart; frequent emptying of the bladder, belching and, at times, attacks of diarrhea. Such people do not stand up well under strain and infections may leave them exhausted for months.

Unfortunately, sometimes it takes quite some effort to rebuild these individuals into perfectly functioning persons. What must be done is to teach them to live within their physical means. They must learn how to put up with their discomforts and get rid of their fears and worries insofar as possible. They must be taught that their digestive attacks are in no way serious and will not lead to anything like cancer.

Many of these people have alternating attacks of diarrhea and constipation, together with some discomfort in the abdomen. Often they pass mucus with the bowel movement. Nervous excitement, cold, or the eating of some food that is difficult to digest may help to bring on the attacks. These persons are said to have mucous colitis, even though there is no actual inflammation of the bowel. Fortunately, this disorder is no more serious than the other digestive symptoms mentioned earlier and, like them, it should cause no great concern or worry. It

Science Records What the Wild Guppies Sing

A Noisy Platter Of Fish

HAMILTON, Bermuda — (NEA) — The weirdest fish story of the season has nothing to do with the one that got away. It's the story of the fish that sing.

Dr. J. B. Hersey, an oceanographic expert from the Marine Biological Laboratory at Woods Hole, Mass., has proof that the tropical fish is no creature of silence.

He got them to make a transcription.

He played the record for skeptical reporters when the marine laboratory's expedition ship, the 97-foot ketch Caryn, put in at Hamilton the other day. The platter was labeled "Fish Noises, Bermuda, 1948."

Dr. Hersey said the recording was made 15 miles off St. George's by lowering a microphone 200 feet into the sea and hoping the fish would get the idea.

They did. The reporters heard the fish sing, hoot, whistle, moan and burp.

The trouble is there is no exact way of translating the singing, hooting, whistling, moaning and burping. The scientists on the Caryn said it could be anything from the mating call of a wild guppy to a chorus of frustrated mermoids.

Even so, the record is of important new scientific value, says Dr. Dugald Brown, head of the Bermuda Biological Station, which is working in conjunction with the Woods Hole expedition. Of greater value, however, is the detailed study of the ocean floor which the expedition is making.

Augmented next month by a second ship equipped with trawling gear, the oceanographers will comb Bermuda waters for samples of aquatic life thus far unknown to science.

Long a paradise for marine scientists, Bermuda's waters contain more varieties of fish than found anywhere else in the world. Dr.

William Beebe classified 602 separate species during his bathysphere expeditions.

Besides getting more information on what the fish are saying, this time the scientists hope to find out something about the curious creatures sports fishermen keep finding inside the tuna they catch off the outer banks.

Hanoverton Couple Wed 25 Years

Mr. and Mrs. Dean King of Hanoverton observed their 25th wedding anniversary with a basket dinner last Sunday in the Masonic temple there.

The dinner was arranged by their nieces and nephews. A three-tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and groom centered the table. It was surrounded by eight four-leaf clovers. Miniature lawn mowers and wheelbarrows and lilies of the valley and tulips completed the decorations.

In the afternoon an open house reception was held, during which 39 friends and relatives congratulated the couple. They were from Salem, Alliance, Lisbon, Kensington and Hanoverton.

The couple received many greeting cards, flowers and gifts. Hazel Dell Miller and Dean King were married May 2, 1923, and have spent their lives in this vicinity.

He submitted the only bid when the Napa city council offered to sell two pieces of antiquated fire equipment — a 1926 model rescue car and a 1914 pumper. David bid $25 for the rescue car. The council delayed briefly to check legality of the transaction, then awarded him the vehicle. David's father drove the fire truck home for him. Fire Chief Vernon Van Sant added a bonus by presenting David with an old fire hat. David earned the $25 selling Christmas cards and doing odd jobs in the neighborhood. He's too young to drive, but still thinks he got the biggest bargain on earth. He sits in the truck and plays he's a fireman.

PLAN CURFEW AT COLUMBIANA

Council Ordinance to Send Children Home At 10 P. M.

COLUMBIANA, May 6 — Curfew will ring again in Columbiana, city council decided Tuesday night, after the custom had fallen into disuse about 15 years ago.

Council also set next Wednesday, May 12, as annual spring clean-up day.

Chief of Police R. G. Millen asked that the curfew ordinance be revised on account of children being about town all hours of the night. It was suspended on account of sickness in the vicinity of city hall, and the mayor at that time ordered that it be not resumed.

A revised ordinance provides that children under 16 must be off the streets at 10 p. m. unless accompanied by their elder or for a valid reason. Parents will be held responsible.

Sheriff George E. Hayes happened to be in town and seconded the request of Chief Millen. While nearly all the municipalities in Columbiana county have curfew ordinances, he said, they are generally unobserved. He blamed parents for aiding juvenile delinquency.

Superintendent of Schools H. F. Richmond was present with reference to the legal formalities in connection with the relocation of the alley along the west side of the site to be occupied by the new high school building. It appears now that work on the building may not be started until fall or later.

Council entered into an agreement with Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Fuhrman, East Park ave., to relay the sidewalk in front of their residence and make their drive and yard conform to a new grade at that point.

The board of public affairs will advertise for bids on painting the standpipe and its supports.

Largest Airplane Hanger Goes Up For A. A. F.

Framework for world's largest airplane hanger dwarfs workmen (circled) at Weaver Air Force Base.

WEAVER AIR FORCE BASE, S. D. — The United States is building the "largest airplane hanger in the world" on the plains of South Dakota.

The huge structure, which will cost an estimated $1,725,000, is now under construction at the U. S. Air Force base near Rapid City, one of the key bases in the air force's strategic air command.

When Weaver air base re-activated on a full-time basis early in 1947 after a post-war lull, there was an immediate need for larger hangers to house the B-29s stationed here.

Army engineers finally decided it would be more practical to build a huge new hanger than attempt to convert and expand the old hangers on the base.

The new structure, which will tower more than six stories high, will be large enough for six Superfortresses. It is being constructed entirely of concrete and steel. The hanger will tower 95 feet in the air at the center, will be 369 feet wide and 314 feet long. It will require more than 15,000 cubic yards of concrete — enough to build a four-lane highway 15 miles long. The concrete on the hanger floor will be 27 inches thick to support the B-29s. Steam pipes will be laid into the floor for radiant heating.

The doors of the hanger will be 40 feet high, and special cranes will be installed to permit the shifting of the big planes once they are in the building.

Base officials say that the hanger will be able to handle easily the larger B-36s as well as the B-29s.

It is said that one person in every three in the U. S. resides in a different state from the one in which he was born.

Doctor In Death Case Loses Bid For Coroner

DOVER, May 6 — Dr. D. M. Ceramella, whose report on the death of Mrs. Roy Baker, 19, led to the filing of a second degree manslaughter charge against a local boxing promoter, was defeated in the Democratic race for coroner in Tuscarawas county Tuesday.

Ceramella, the incumbent, lost the race to Dr. John F. Lake, 2666 to 1789. Dr. Lake was making his political debut.

Mrs. Baker died April 9 of injuries received April 6 at her home. A grand jury meets Friday to consider a manslaughter charge filed against Paul Cash, 35, boxing promoter, who was indicted following Mrs. Baker's mysterious death.

New Toledo Coach
SEATTLE, May 6 — Neil "Skip" Stahley will be Toledo university's new head football coach. Stahley announced here last night that he was resigning as University of Washington trackfield coach to accept the Ohio position.

Would Make Difference
Average temperature over the earth's surface would be about 18 degrees Fahrenheit, instead of the observed 60 degrees, if there were no atmosphere.

ALL 23 OHIO CONGRESSMEN RENOMINATED

All Returned To Ballot By Voters In Ohio Primary Tuesday

COLUMBUS, May 6—All 23 of Ohio's representatives in congress will be on the November ballot. Seventeen were unopposed in Tuesday's primary. The others—five Republicans and one Democrat—brushed aside primary rivals with ease.

Incumbents renominated over challengers were Edward O. McCowen, of Wheelersburg, sixth district; Frederick C. Smith of Marion, eighth district; Thomas A. Jenkins of Ironton, tenth; Walter E. Brehm of Logan, eleventh; and Henderson H. Carson of Canton, sixteenth, all Republicans, and one Democrat of Cleveland.

The race for congressman-at-large will be between George H. Bender, the incumbent, and a fellow Cleveland Democrat Stephen M. Young. Young, congressman in 1933-36 and 1941-42, defeated T. L. Thomas of Akron by better than a 5-2 margin. Unofficial totals from 9154 of 9385 polling places gave him 266,146 to 103,605 for Thomas. Bender was unopposed.

McCowen rolled up 19,953 votes to 7,581 for his primary opponent, James H. McElhenny. Complete unofficial eighth district totals gave Smith 10,758 to 6,226 for Robert T. Mason. Returns from 178 of 369 polling places in the tenth district left Jenkins far ahead of George A. Hunter, 11,577 to 5,100. Brehm tallied 10,674 to 2,847 for Ralph W. Terrell. Carson had 16,866 in nearly complete returns to 1,967 for his nearest rival, Henry F. Beaudry; and Crosser has 13,114 to 10,056 for Emil A. Bartunek, his closest challenger in a four-man race.

Here's how the congressional races will stack up in November (X-incumbent):

At large: George H. Bender, Cleveland (R-X); Stephen M. Young (D), Cleveland.

First district: Charles H. Elston, Mariemont (R-X); Morse Johnson, Cincinnati (D).

Second district: William E. Hess, Cincinnati (R-X); Earl T. Wagner, Cincinnati (D).

Third district: Raymond H. Burke (R-X); Edward G. Green, Dayton (D).

Marine Corps Air Reserve Hits 93% Of Authorized Peacetime Strength

Enlisted men and officers of the Flying Leathernecks' "weekend warriors" line up for inspection at the Marine Corps aviation base at Cherry Point, N. C.

By NEA Service
CHERRY POINT, N. C. — The three-year-old "weekend warrior" arm of the Flying Leathernecks has reached 93 per cent of authorized strength, officer and enlisted.

On May 22, Marine Corps Aviation celebrates its 36th anniversary. Its authorized peacetime strength is 21 fighter squadrons. Today the organized Air Reserve is prepared to supplement this with 25 more trained fighter squadrons and eight ground control intercept squadrons.

This civilian combat-ready force was created to bring the regulars to full fighting strength of men and planes within 10 days.

That was too long for the Marines.

During maneuvers, the 17 East Coast units cut this to one day when they gathered here for two weeks of training. Bad weather and longer distances held up the West Coast units. They took three days to assemble at El Toro, Calif.

Twenty-six transport planes, flying shuttle hops, picked up air and ground personnel at bases near their homes and rushed them to maneuver headquarters.

One Marine pilot started at Miami, flew a contingent north, dropped them here, flew on to Willow Grove, Pa., and returned with another batch the same day.

In all the transports made pickups from 22 fields and bases throughout the country where the Marine Air Reserves are stationed. The East Coast units had 87 1/2 per cent of their planes ready for tactical flying every day of the two weeks they were here, and flew 5235 hours without a single fatality or accident of any consequence.

They flew 3500 hops to get in their gunnery, bombing, rocket-firing and tactical exercises supporting ground troops. A third of the 1500 men involved were teenage recruits with no war experience.

Defense Secretary James Forrestal recently defined the Marine Air Arm's primary mission as supporting Marine ground troops in amphibious operations. Their secondary mission is to furnish replacement squadrons for carriers.

The Reserves now fly the Corsair fighters like those they used during World War II. Pilots and ground personnel are to be trained to fly and service newer types of jet planes as they become available to the Corps.

The Reserves get the equivalent to two months' training a year. Two weeks of this is at maneuvers. The rest is in training sessions held on alternate weekends at bases assigned to the Reserve.

Brig. Gen. C. F. Schlitt, who won the Congressional Medal of Honor for his work as a Marine aviator in Nicaragua, heads Marine Air Training Command at Glenview, Ill., which reorganized the Air Reserve and shot it full of the same enthusiasm that has made the Corps famous.

The United States Lighthouse service maintains about 43 lightships, of which 10 are relief vessels.

cerned about who will be in charge of the state organization.

"It is my hope that a definite determination will be made to place good government first and patronage as a mere incident of good government."

Lausche's statement followed a telegram to him from R. Kenneth Kerr, Lancaster Eagle-Gazette publisher and treasurer of Miller's campaign. He said:

"My support now goes to Frank J. Lausche. For the good of all concerned, I urge you and those who their purpose to stand by the choice were with us to declare publicly of the people of Ohio and to give Lausche our fullest support."

Lt. Gov. Paul M. Herbert, Republican, and George D. Nye, Democrat, who held that office two years ago, were nominated without opposition. The secretary of state's office reported their complimentary vote from 8391 polling places as 492,562 for Herbert and 278,683 for Nye.

wakefulness against the "better judgment" of their neighbors.

It must be the right formula, Clara has a new rosy, school-girl complexion. She plays ball on the front lawn every day with the Sartains' orphaned niece and nephew, Alice, 10, and Johnny, 12. There is a spring in her walk that she lacked before. Still more puzzling, she didn't have to learn to walk again, as do most bedridden persons.

Doctors Stumped, Too
Doctors were stumped, too. So were some of the neighbors who said privately the Sartains were wasting their time and money caring for Clara. It's still uncertain whether she'll go back to sleep, Mrs. Sartain said.

On the day of the awakening, Mrs. Sartain went into Clara's room and, because she admittedly likes to talk, asked her usual question: "How are you this morning, Clara?" She hadn't received an answer in 12 years, and she didn't expect one.

"Just fine," Clara's voice said. She was awake, and it stunned Mrs. Sartain. But she recovered sufficiently to seat Clara in her wicker chair next to the window.

"What is that, a tree?" Clara wanted to know.

"Yes," replied Mrs. Sartain, "that elm has been there these 12 years, and this is the first time you've noticed it, isn't it?"

Clara confessed it was. She could remember only that she often tried hard to open her eyes but couldn't and that she had a feeling sometimes she was far, far away.

It was a great thing, Clara's recovery. But White Pine folks are equally happy for the devoted Sartains, who spent many hours at Clara's bedside, shocking her face into motion with ice or a wet towel so she could eat.

"I feel like I've been let out of jail," sighed Mrs. Sartain.

STEELMAN

without a crippling nationwide walk-out is known to be under study.

But those close to the chief executive are prepared to recommend it only if they feel there is a definite possibility the quarreling parties will heed the appeal.

The 190,000 members of three railroad brotherhoods are set to walk out at 6 a. m. May 11. They are the Locomotive Engineers, Firemen and Enginemen, and Switchmen. Together they could halt operations on the nation's major rail lines because they run the locomotives and control the switches. There are more than a million railroad workers in 18 other unions.

An appeal to the railroads and unions for a new try at settling the controversy might be accompanied by an invitation to talk things over with Truman at the White House or to return to negotiations with help from the National Mediation board.

As a last resort, the President might order seizure of the railroads under a World War I emergency act which has never been repealed in full. Other presidential authority to take over properties involved in labor disputes was wiped out a year ago by congress.

Mediation board members Frank P. Douglass and Francis A. O'Neill, Jr., conferred at length with Presidential Assistant John R. Steelman yesterday. Steelman kept Truman informed of the status of the railroad talks—which collapsed in Chicago Tuesday.

The three unions stood pat for more than the 15½-cent hourly pay increase which the other railroad brotherhoods accepted. In addition, they demanded action on long-pending rules changes. The rules have a lot to do with pay and hours of the firemen and engine crews while doing certain jobs under certain conditions.

Meantime, some railroads, like the Louisville and Nashville and the Southern Railway system, placed a voluntary embargo on shipment of perishable goods beginning this week end. The L & N announced it will not accept shipments of livestock, poultry, and perishables after Friday.

The southern system said its ban will be effective at 12:01 a. m., Saturday, May 8.

Cincinnati, treasurer of the United States, but are committed to vote for President Truman.

One of the hottest state races was for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination. Former Gov. Frank J. Lausche outstripped Ray T. Miller, former Cuyahoga county Democratic chairman and ex-Cleveland mayor, nearly 3-to-1. In the Nov. 3 election Lausche will oppose Republican Gov. Thomas J. Herbert, who named him out by about 40,000 votes two years ago.

Republican Congressman-at-Large George H. Bender of Cleveland and all 22 incumbent congressmen, four of them Democrats, were renominated.

MACKENZIE'S Column

BY DEWITT MACKENZIE
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

Ten days from now Britain will surrender her mandate over the Holy Land and the lid will be off the Arab-Jewish war—unless a harassed United Nations can evolve a plan to prevent a catastrophe.

Even days—just the flick of an eyelid as time goes when a fast-moving emergency like this is faced! At best, the U. N. will have to pull a rabbit out of the hat to handle the situation. At worst, this Middle East conflict could develop into another world upheaval.

And when one stops to survey the whole complicated muddle the question naturally arises whether there would be greater danger in continuation of the Palestine upheaval or in an inability of the U. N. to do anything about it. Certainly a failure of the peace organization to do something constructive would be a terrible blow to the morale of its supporters.

Anyhow, England is giving up her mandate on May 15, and expects to have her troops out of Palestine by August 1. Furthermore, the British say that after the surrender of the mandate they will employ their diminishing armed forces merely defensively, to protect the completion of their withdrawal.

IN SHORT, all restraint will have been removed from the developing conflict—unless there is U. N. intervention.

Meantime the situation in Palestine is (to use the language of the British army) "seriously deteriorating." Yesterday the Britons announced that they were rushing troops, tanks and guns to the Holy Land from Malta and Cyprus to cope with the worsened conditions. This was to supplement a force estimated by competent observers to be about 25,000 troops.

Reports of developments are conflicting. Syrian, Lebanese and Egyptian troops apparently have massed on the Palestine frontiers and may even have invaded the Holy Land. Saudi Arabia, Trans-Jordan and Iraq are said to be ordering forces to the battle zone. However, when you have sifted out all the known facts, the rumors and the questionable reports, the situation seems to boil down to this:

Thus far the Jewish army in Palestine has had the advantage in the fighting and has improved its positions. Moreover AP Correspondent Daniel De Luce reports from Jerico that he talked with Arab refugees bound for Trans-Jordan and that they were acutely skeptical of the reported agreement by the Arab nations to wipe out the Zionist state. One formerly wealthy merchant from Jerusalem said:

"TALK OF Arab governments rescuing Palestine sounds like another case of 'too little and too late.' If they send all the 30,000 regulars they're supposed to have promised to send, the Jews have 45,000 trained soldiers here in this country and inexhaustible riches to draw on from overseas."

Whether this marchant was sure of his figures remains to be seen. Still, the indications are that the Jewish forces are relatively strong and have considerable excellent equipment. Furthermore, they presumably will be able to import further war material after the British mandate is surrendered.

There was one bright spot in an otherwise dark picture yesterday. Jews and Arabs agreed on a 48-hour truce in their battle for the Katamon quarter of Jerusalem. Sir Henry Gurney, chief secretary for the Palestine government, intervened to secure a cease-fire order. Surely this means that the position isn't hopeless from the standpoint of peace-makers.

Boyle's COLUMN

BY HAL BOYLE

LEAD. S. D.—A gold miner is about as likely to see an elephant underground as he is gold.

And if he did see it he probably wouldn't recognize it. This is one of the oddities of digging out the yellow metal that gives the boys at Fort Knox something to guard and provides the nation's dentists something to fill a tooth with besides an ache.

"It is very rare to find free specks of gold," said Harlan Walker, assistant general manager of the Homestake mine, largest in the Americas.

"Miners can work years here and never see any."

Many miners can't even determine ore-bearing rock from waste or "country rock." Sites worth working are outlined by skilled mining engineers.

Gold mining is an intricate industry comparable in many ways to an automobile factory. It takes many skills to glean from one ton of ore its final product—barely enough gold to make a man's wedding ring. And it may cost $200,000 or more to blast through rock to reach an ore body worth working.

Practically everything taken out of the mine is put back in with one noteworthy exception—the gold. After the ore has been crushed and passed through meshes of a screen finer than the sifting cloth used in flour mills, the waste sand is pumped back into the mine as "fill" to prevent wall collapses.

Gold miners are a hardy, snuff-chewing crew who hold a high disdain for coal mines. They work a seven-hour, six-day week and the top workers earn $12 to $15 a day. They live a mile above sea level here and work a mile from their homes—straight down.

Their chief task is drilling seven-foot holes in the tunnel face and stuffing them with dynamite which they set off at the end of their shift. Laborers then do the mucking—loading the blasted ore with power shovels.

Some idea of the size of the operations in this massive mine that has produced $460,000,000 in 70 years:

It produces 1,400,000 tons of ore in a normal year.

It pumps out 500 gallons of water a minute and pumps in 225,000 cubic feet of fresh air.

It has 37 levels, 120 miles of tunnels.

It burns 773 miles of fuse a year.

to set off 3,600,000 sticks of dynamite—some 100,000 pounds a month.

Its giant main hoists can haul up nine-ton loads of ore at three times the speed of the fastest passenger elevators in New York skyscrapers.

At present the gold mining industry in the United States is in a slump. The Homestake mine is operating at only about 60 percent capacity.

"Before the war the United States produced 14 percent of the world's gold each year," Walker said. "Now it produces only about 5 percent."

"The reasons? The present ceiling price on gold, shortage of labor, higher costs and high taxes."

It takes 20 days and incredible labor to harvest from 35 tons of sand ore in the mine the one pound or less of gold bullion that emerges from the refinery.

But Walker is weary of people who say:

"Why go to all that trouble? It is just taken out of one hole here and put back into another hole at Fort Knox."

His reply:

"If the gold wasn't mined the country would soon find out how important it is. It has many industrial uses—and there never was a nation that felt it had enough for money."

One indication of its value: They can burn the suit of coveralls worn by a refinery worker here and recover enough gold dust to buy three new suits.

Pedestrians Easy Prey For Autos

According to Albert P. Morris, manager of the Columbiana County Automobile club, 608 of the 1,857 persons killed in traffic accidents in Ohio in 1947 were pedestrians.

Pedestrians walking in rural areas are urged to walk facing oncoming cars and, if walking at night, to make themselves more visible to motorists by wearing or carrying something white.

Pedestrians walking in cities are urged to look TWICE before stepping from the curb, and are also reminded to walk, not run, when they cross streets.

Pedestrians walking at the outskirts of communities should bear in mind that vehicle speeds are higher in outlying districts than in downtown districts and should also keep in mind that street illumination is not always adequate in suburban and near-city limit areas.

Pedestrians anywhere should paste this rule in their hats — WATCH WHILE YOU WALK!

MOVIES PUT FINGER ON TIPSY DRIVER

POMONA, Calif. — Authorities here are boasting a new technique of wiring drunken drivers for sound, and capturing their inebriated characteristics with a motion picture camera.

Here's how it works: An officer picks up an erratic driver who maintains that he has had only one beer. They go to the station where the driver is given a sobriety examination which includes the "line-walking test," the "pass-pointing" test and the revolving Rhomberg test which measures reflex action.

A doctor is present to check his eyes, speech, balance, gait, breath and general behavior. But that's not all—the driver's every word is recorded on a wire recorder, and every action observed by a 16 mm. camera. He is then booked, if pronounced drunk.

Pomona police say the effects of the movies and sound recordings work wonders in court if the driver claims he wasn't drunk.

Really WASHES!

The BLACKSTONE is an AGITATOR WASHER! It uses the same proven, efficient, gentle washing action universally approved in the wringer washers! You can be certain that your clothes will be spotlessly washed, unharmed and free of knots and tangles! It really washes clothes clean!

Really RINSES!

Only BLACKSTONE offers a scum-removing, double-action, agitated-rinse! After the tub automatically refills for rinsing, a complete change of clean water is introduced. As the agitator loosens dirt and soap scum which float to the surface, a high velocity spray flushes this scum from the top of the tub before the water is drained out, so it cannot be redeposited in the clean clothes. It really rinses!

Really SPIN DRIES!

The BLACKSTONE tub develops such powerful centrifugal force — due to its size and speed of rotation — that most clothes are dried so efficiently they can be ironed at once! It can never twist or strain or tear the fabrics — nor break buckles or buttons! The swift, harmless centrifugal action of the BLACKSTONE really spin-dries!

Boston's Deal For Stephens, Kramer, Kinder Looks Good

Events Have Changed and Purchase Begins to Pay Off For Boston Outfit

By JACK HAND
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

The Boston Red Sox' $375,000 deal for Junior Stephens, Jack Kramer and Ellis Kinder finally began to look like good business.

Red Sox fans had their misgivings when wins failed to follow the cash outlay. Up to five days ago, neither Kramer nor Kinder had thrown a ball for Boston. Stephens, the boy who was supposed to knock holes in Fenway park's leftfield wall was hitting a sorry 206.

Events of the last few days have served to change that picture. Kramer won himself a ball game Saturday and yesterday Stephens hammered an 11th inning homer that gave Kinder a relief decision.

Still far below par at .255, Stephens is beginning to find the Fenway range. Yesterday's clout off Dixie Trout was his most telling blow for Boston. It accounted for the Sox' 4-3 win over Detroit, their fourth straight victory.

The Pittsburgh Pirates continue to sizzle in the National, rolling to their sixth straight win by a 3-2 shade over Boston. It was their first test against a club supposed to be a pennant contender and they came off in fine shape. They now

Coach At Massillon

Charlie Mather, popular coach of the Leetonia High School Bears who captured Ohio's Class B crown in 1945 and more recently at Hamilton, yesterday put his name on a $5,500 contract to tutor the most famous High school football team in the United States.

The talented Mather, whose popularity has been exemplified in his being named "Coach of the Year" in Southern Ohio for 1947, will serve in the capacity of head football coach and athletic director. His two-year contract calls for $5,500 a second year.

Paul Schofer, former Hamilton basketball coach and a producer of powerhouses in Mather's former school, will go along as cage man and an assistant in football.

TEST "SANITY" CODE IN USAGE THIS YEAR, PLEA

One of Writers of New Code Says Enforcement Needs Tightened

(By United Press)

CHICAGO, May 6—A test of the NCAA "sanity code," designed to preserve the amateur purity of college athletes, appeared imminent today.

Dr. James L. Morrill, president of the University of Minnesota and one of the staunchest supporters of the purity code, contended that the NCAA members could clean up sports at the conference level, but that the NCAA itself is adequate because of its size.

Such a statement from a man who has twice spoken at NCAA conventions during the period when the "sanity code" was being developed could mean only that he knew of violations, or of practices which might be considered violations by the NCAA compliance committee.

Thus it appeared that the code, adopted by the NCAA with numerous strengthening amendments last January, was destined for a test within a year.

"Machinery to enforce the code has been set up," an NCAA spokesman said today, "and the NCAA is prepared for any steps to be taken under it."

At the same time the committee completed its plans for action on complaints of violations by any member school. The enforcement machinery is based on thorough investigation at the institutional level, and the committee will investigate every reported violation.

Morrill made no specific charges against any institution. His speech was behind closed doors at a session of the National Association of State universities, but he made public a digest of his remarks.

The athletic conferences, he said, must furnish the purpose and machinery to enforce the high ideals of intercollegiate athletic competition. For the NCAA "can hardly be considered more than a 'last common denominator' of athletic reform."

As a representative of Minnesota, long one of the most conservative institutions in the western conference, there probably was some fire behind Morrill's smoke.

Rough Road

Heavyweight champion Joe Louis, weighing a paunchy 225 pounds, takes an early morning workout at his Bear Lake, Mich., training camp. The Brown Bomber hopes to shed 13 pounds between now and June 23, when he defends his title for the second time against Jersey Joe Walcott at Yankee Stadium.

Wes Fesler In Middle Of Inexorable Whirlpool and Solution Is Not Easy One

The first of two articles concerning the Ohio State university football situation.

BY JOHN BARRINGTON
COLUMBUS, May 6—Wesley Eugene Fesler is in the unfortunate position of a swimmer in the center of a maelstrom.

The curly haired impresario of Ohio State university's shaky football fortunes apparently is caught in an inexorable whirlpool.

The situation is one which he has had only a small part in shaping. Yet, barring unforeseen developments, he is likely to be the victim, the fall guy, the scapegoat of that situation.

Doubtless, someone warned the former All-American end about sticky undertows when he accepted the Ohio State coaching job a little over a year ago.

Maybe it was that very warning that enforced Fesler's desire to return to his alma mater as chief football tactician.

The likeable Fesler stepped slapdash into an almost untenable position.

The pity of it is that one of the Buckeye institution's athletic immortals, and a very promising coach as well, must come in for considerable grief in such circumstances.

Briefly, the forces tugging so ruthlessly against each other may be diagrammed thusly:

1. The almost insatiable desire of Ohio State followers for victorious teams; and, hand in hand with that, the never flagging over-optimism in pre-season evaluations.
2. The intense factionalism involving those who worshipped for many years at the shrine of former athletic director L. W. St. John, as opposed to those who disapproved of every St. John action right down to the way he tied his shoes.
3. The unique position of Paul Brown, former Buck coach and now head of the powerful Cleveland Browns. Undeniably a football genius and a man of immense personality, Brown has a huge following and a surprising desire to return as OSU coach-athletic director.
4. The fact that Fesler assumed the grid post after OSU football fortunes were already on the downgrade; and that he took office simultaneously with a new athletic director, a new assistant director, and even a new ticket chieftain.

In the latter connection, the triumvirate of Fesler, Athletic Director Dick Larkins and Ticket Director Oscar Thomas made their full share of mistakes as freshmen in administration of the vast Ohio State athletic enterprise.

Probably the most serious and glaring fault was a weakness in that nebulous thing known as public relations. Time and again, each of the trio took the press and public into its confidence when it would have been wiser not to do so—and failed to share information that should

POLOISTS READY

30 District Players At Meeting Here; Salem Opens May 30

Players from the polo teams comprising the Penn-Ohio Polo league met at the American Legion post here Wednesday evening to set their playing schedule for the 1948 season.

Thirty players attended from Akron, Pittsburgh, Zelenople, Columbus, Darlington, Poland, Warren and Detroit.

Salem's initial game here will be against the Harbor Hills team of Columbus May 30 and 31. Poland will come to Salem May 13.

Jack Ivory, carrying a national rating of five goals, came from Detroit to offer any assistance his famous teams may be able to give to help the teams in the Penn-Ohio league balance its playing schedule and arranged for a tour through Ohio in July. Detroit will play a double header in Salem July 4 and 5 when Salem fans will have an opportunity to see topflight players and ponies in action.

Ivory gave a short talk showing the effort being made by the American Polo Association to help smaller teams throughout the country bring better polo to the public.

Salem will go to Detroit for a game June 20.

Columbus, O.—Pat Richard, 187, Columbus, knocked out Larry Jackson 195, Indianapolis, 3.

The Nation Today

BY JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON, May 6—Congress has its hands full to finish up before the important summer coming up.

The Republicans meet in Philadelphia June 21 to nominate a candidate for President. The Democrats pick their candidate there in July.

The Democrats and Republicans in congress want to finish before June 21 so that:

1. They can take part in the conventions.

2. Use the time between the conventions and the elections in November to campaign for their own re-election.

One-third of the 96 senate seats and all 435 house seats will be at stake in the elections.

AND WHAT congress does this year will be part of the campaigns.

The two biggest things congress has done since starting its 1948 work in January are the income tax cut and the Marshall plan aid for Europe.

Here are some of the major items still unfinished:

1. Men for the armed forces—Congress will have to decide whether to pass a draft law, or compel youths to take military training, or both.

2. Housing—The senate has passed the Taft-Ellender-Wagner long-range housing bill. It's now up to the house to okay it and thus make it law, or kill it, or let it die.

3. Margarine—The house voted to wipe out all federal taxes on margarine. Nothing will be changed. Though, unless the senate votes as the house did.

4. The reciprocal trade agreements act—It dies June 12 unless congress renews it. This act has been on the books 14 years.

It's a cornerstone of this country's foreign policy. The act means simply this:

To get better world trade, the government is allowed to cut tariffs on certain kinds of imports from a foreign country if that country agrees to cut its own tariffs on certain imports from us.

5. DISPLACED PERSONS—Should this country let perhaps 200,000 or more displaced persons in Europe come in to this country?

The senate may act on this by mid-May. Maybe. And maybe the house will act. It's up in the air.

6. Civil rights—The idea of passing an anti-lynching law and a law to wipe out poll taxes has been kicking around congress for months.

The senate may tackle an anti-lynching bill this month. If so, the southern Democrats will try to talk it to death. If it ever passes the senate, the house still has to consider it.

7. Tidelands—The house last week passed a bill to give the states ownership of the land, rich in oil, off their coasts. The government says the government should control lands.

If the senate tries to act on this, to make it law, the whole business may get drawn in debate.

8. Atomic energy commission—The terms of office of the five members of the atomic energy commission, including Chairman David E. Lilienthal, end August 1.

—H. G. Morrison, assistant attorney general.

For the love of Mike let's keep him as a scientist.

—Sen. Joseph H. Ball (R) of Minnesota, urging draft deferment for young scientists.

Americans are not in the habit of yielding on any point under pressure.

—Gen. Lucius D. Clay, U. S. military commander in Germany.

President Truman's explanation of the change in the U. S. stand on Palestine only emphasizes the complete confusion of the administration's policy.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

"What's Your Opinion, Mister?"

Fellow from one of those public opinion polls was in Andy's Garden Tavern, querying Andy's patrons on everything from that "new look" to the next election.

And it occurred to me that there's nothing more typically American than collecting other folks' opinions, as well as giving out with one's own. And from where I sit, it's a mighty healthy habit.

So long as people can discuss both sides of a question that comes up—whether it concerns short skirts versus long, beer compared with cider, or the larger issues of party versus liberty—we're sure of the individual liberty that has made this country great.

For it isn't differences of opinion that matter. The important thing is tolerance for differences of opinion—whether they affect the right of an individual to vote, to speak his mind, or enjoy a glass of beer. They're all parts of the freedom that we cherish!
